

Maya Title: Desert Night

Maya

The owl flies across the dark
A dog starts to bark
The rabbit hops away
It's almost day
The blue birds want to sing
Tree branches swing
In the gentle breeze
The tortoise walks with ease
Flowers bloom brightly
A Hummingbird lands lightly
The sun now is all the way up
A coyote takes care of her pup
A roadrunner runs really fast
Up and down, and past
A prickly cactus so spiny
Near it is a rodent so tiny
The quail does its dance so it can mate
It's getting so so late
And that's what happens every night
Every night it happens till light
In the sonoran desert
