

Please come

Upcoming Event

Friday, May 1 at 7 PM

Poetry reading with Guest Starring Wildlife!

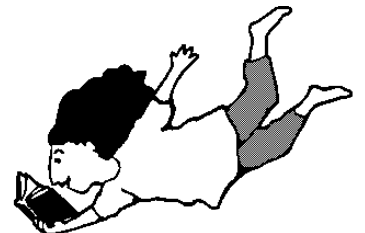

Eric Magrane, Poet-in-Residence at the Desert Museum, will be joined by Miss Marple, a ringtail and “animal experience specialist,” for a playful, ruminative and interactive pairing that explores the connection between poetry and the natural world. Eric Magrane is a poet, editor and geographer as well as a Carson Scholar with the Institute of the Environment at the U. of A. and a graduate fellow with Confluentcenter for Creative Inquiry. Miss Marple, in her unique role as the Arizona State mammal, champions the importance of environmental and science education. Don't miss this unique evening which brings together two enduring cultural institutions: the Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum and the University of Arizona Poetry Center.

The reading will be followed by a question and answer period.
Refreshments will be served.

Antigone Books

411 N. 4th Avenue • Tucson, AZ 85705 • 792-3715
info@antigonebooks.com • www.antigonebooks.com